

Eastern Virginia Medical School (EVMS) is seeking a faculty member for a full-time (12-month) position in the School of Health Professions. The successful candidate should have a strong background in statistics, biostatistics, or data analytics, with a commitment to innovative teaching, student success, and applied research. The minimum requirements include:

- Earned Ph.D. in Biostatistics, Statistics, Data Sciences, or related fields
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness and the potential to contribute to curriculum development
- Ability to contribute to the service mission of EVMS School of Health Professions
- Ability to contribute to the school's commitment to high quality research in relevant areas
- Experience with healthcare delivery and healthcare analytics is particularly welcome

Responsibilities for this faculty include developing and teaching courses for graduate students in programs under the EVMS School of Health Professions, such as Master of Healthcare Analytics, Master of Healthcare Delivery, PhD/EdD in Medical and Healthcare Professions, and the Graduate Program in Public Health. The faculty in this position is also expected to advise and mentor students, conduct collaborative research, and provide service to the EVMS community when needed.

The Hampton Roads region offers many opportunities for research collaboration with investigators in both healthcare and community-based settings. Notable campus centers include the Strelitz Diabetes Institute, the Jones Institute for Reproductive Medicine, the Glennan Center for Geriatrics and Gerontology, the M. Foscue Brock Institute for Community and Global Health, and the Old Dominion University Center for Global Health. EVMS shares the Medical Center campus with Sentara Norfolk General Hospital (one of 11 acute care hospitals in a top integrated healthcare system) and Children's Hospital of the King's Daughters (part of a multi-specialty health system offering comprehensive pediatric care).

The position offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package, commensurate with experience and level of appointment. Applications will be reviewed as received, and the position will remain open until filled. The desired start date is 07/01/2020. However, a later start date can be discussed.

Quality of Life: Located in the city of Norfolk, EVMS serves the southeastern region of Virginia known as Hampton Roads, as well as northeastern North Carolina. The area provides easy access to Virginia Beach, the Outer Banks, mountains, Washington D.C., and the state capital of Richmond. Norfolk/Virginia Beach was Places Rated Almanac's #1 metropolitan area for recreation. Live and work in an environment abundant with history, culture, and education.

Applications must be submitted electronically at: www.evms.edu/careers . Please submit (1) a most recent CV (2) a cover letter outlining your background, teaching philosophy, purpose and interests and (3) names and contact information of three professional references.

Applicants for this position must be authorized to work in the U.S. as part of a pre-condition of employment.

EVMS is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer of Minorities, Females, Individuals with Disabilities, Protected Veterans, and Drug and Tobacco Free workplace.