The Department of Statistics at The Ohio State University is looking for a Visiting Assistant Professor and/or Instructor, ideally to join us for the Spring Semester of this academic year. We seek individuals who are committed to excellence in undergraduate education. The initial focus of the positions is teaching with the possibility of broadening duties through time.

For the Visiting Assistant Professor position, the candidate is expected to have completed all requirements for the PhD by January 1, 2020; for the Instructor position, the candidate is expected to have a Masters degree. Duration of the appointment is negotiable, but it is expected to extend to the 2020-21 academic year at a minimum.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, beginning immediately. For full consideration, send CV, a summary of teaching experience, a statement on teaching, and the names and contact information of three references to Dan Miner (miner.58@osu.edu).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.
