Public Health United (a project run by students to improve public health communication) is pleased to announce Expert Panel #2:
“Malaria, Safari Science, & Global Health Spending” recorded on May 3, 2013. Guest experts Drs. Clive Shiff (JHMRI), Rhoel Dinglasan (JHMRI), & Jim Webb (Colby College) share diverse perspectives on why malaria is so hard to control.

Check out http://www.publichealthunited.org/ to listen to the podcast and read articles on this important subject.